Warns Against Sugar Quota Change

Castro Offers to Negotiate Differences with U. S., But --

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's government says it is ready to negotiate its differences with the United States but warns against any Washington action harmful to the Cuban economy.

Foreign Minister Raul Roa handed a note to U.S. Charge d'Affaires Daniel Braddock Monday announcing that Cuba would appoint a commission to open talks in Washington at a date convenient to both countries.

Note Expresses Confidence

The note expressed "confidence this decision will be justly appreciated by the North American government inasmuch as it is directed to the examination of questions that have lately affected traditional relations between Cuba and the United States."

But the note indicated that negotiations would fall through if the U.S. government or Congress took steps Cuba might consider harmful to its economy. This was an obvious warning against any tampering with the sugar quota system under which the United States purchases half of Cuba's sugar crop at premium prices.

Declines To Comment

Braddock declined to comment on the contents of the note, which he relayed to Washington. A state Department spokesman in Washington said there would be no comment until the proposal has been studied.

Matters at issue between the U.S. and Cuban governments include: U.S. demands for prompt and adequate payment for American property seized under Castro's agrarian reform program.

Cuban complaints that the United States is harboring "war criminal" members of dictator Fulgencio Batista's regime.

Cuba charges that U.S.-based planes are making bombing attacks on Cuba.

Severe restrictions on imports from the United States to Cuba.

Cuba also has been pressing for a new commercial agreement with the United States embracing the sugar quota system. Castro has complained frequently that having the quota subject to U.S. congressional action makes it "an instrument of political pressure" against Cuba.

Chicago Police Head Appointed

Professor Named By Mayor Daley

CHICAGO (AP) — Orlando W. Wilson, a mid-looking professor and newly named head of Chicago's scandal-riddled police department, says he will try to make the city's men-in-blue the best in the world.

But, cautioned the 59-year-old University of California dean after his selection Monday by Mayor Richard J. Daley, the job cannot be done overnight or by one man. "Moves will have to proceed slowly and after due deliberations to avoid capricious or unwise actions," he told the small army of newsmen who jammed into the mayor's office.

The special five-man committee which proposed Wilson's name to Daley—Wilson had been chairman of the group until prevailed upon to take the post himself—also called for a sweeping revision of the department organization.

The new commissioner, a surprise choice, is dean of the School of Criminology of the University of California in Berkeley. An expert in police administration, he has served as consultant to police departments in six big cities.

His selection ended nearly a month of intensive searching for a successor to Timothy J. O'Connor, who resigned Jan. 23 in the wake of accusations there was collusion between policemen and burglars.

Wilson will be named acting police commissioner March 2 at the same time Daley proposes to submit to the City Council a ordinance revising the set-up of the police department. Upon the expected passage of the ordinance, Wilson would be named superintendent of police with a salary of $30,000 a year. This is $7,500 more than O'Connor got and $15,300 more than Wilson's salary at the university.

Kiwanis Cast Plans Kapers March 7, 8, 9

The Kiwanis Kapers of 1960 will be a three-act production in a "Western" theme March 7, 8 and 9 in the Salem Junior High School auditorium. Tom Williams is in charge of the show.

"Wagon Wheels," "Yellow Rose of Texas," "Cool Water," and "Home in Wyoming" will be featured by the singing chorus.

The dancing chorus will present two routines, and there will be "shooting and fighting." A trio will pantomime music of the Andrews Sisters.

Scenes for the production will be laid in a barroom and outdoors around a campfire. Characters will be dressed in appropriate "Western Garb."

The Key Klub will appear in the second act with a "Medicine Show."

Japanese Princess Gives Birth to Son

TOKYO (AP)—Crown Princess Michiko gave birth today to a healthy, 5-pound, 9-ounce son who became second in the line of succession to the Japanese throne.

The baby is the first child born to Crown Prince Akihito and the daughter of the commoner flour manufacturer he married last April 10. He birth had not been expected for another week.

Akihito, eldest son of Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako, is 26. Michiko is 25.

An announcement said both mother and child were well. The princess entered the Imperial Household hospital at 1:50 a.m. Monday and the baby was born 14 hours and 25 minutes later.

The delivery was described as natural, apparently meaning, without artificial aid of any type.

The young father, in accordance with tradition, waited at his home five miles from the hospital. At news of the birth, he rushed to the hospital to see his son and his wife.

Michiko's mother, Mrs. Hide-saburo Shoda, was the only member of the family with the princess for the confinement.

Emperor Hirohito will give the baby his name and title on Feb. 29 in the ancient ceremony of the first bath. Until then he will be known as "shinno," or imperial prince.

The birth aroused widespread public joy. People jammed the palace plaza to hear the news. Shouts of "banzai! banzai!"—may you live 10,000 years—rang through the square. A helicopter sent up by a Tokyo department store trailed a streamer "congratulations, birth of imperial child."

Postal Service Curtailment Is Threatened

Effect of Proposed Cut In Funds Cited By Summerfield

WASHINGTON (AP) — An election-year money-cutting drive runs head on into a threat of curtailed postal service today in the House.

At issue is a proposed cut of 82 million dollars in new funds for the Post Office Department for the fiscal year starting July 1. It was recommended last week by the Appropriations Committee and is the biggest cut ever imposed by that group on requested postal funds, although the total allowed still would be $104,590,000 more than was appropriated for this year.

Action Brings Complaint

The committee action, taken by a lopsided vote, brought a complaint from Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield that it would be necessary to reduce postal service and deprive many communities of needed facilities if the cut sticks.

Rep. J. Vaughan Gary (D-Va.), chairman of the subcommittee which worked out the appropriation cut, described Summerfield's remarks as his "usual annual threat to the Congress."

"If the Congress is going to be intimidated by such tactics, we might as well pack up and go home," he said in a statement. Indications were that the House would go along with its Appropriations Committee, as it has in the past.

Cut May Be Restored

There were further indications that all or most of the cut would be restored by the Senate, or be provided in a later bill, as it has in the past.

The Senate Appropriations Committee meanwhile in effect restored almost 18 million dollars of House cuts in another money bill, for the Commerce Department and related agencies. Restorations included 10 million for aviation weather services, $2,100,000 for ocean surveys and about 14 million for Commerce Department business services connected with exports.

As approved by the Senate committee, the Commerce Department bill totaled $738,388,300, compared with $760,522,235 voted by the House and $799,615,000 asked by President Eisenhower.

But Sen. Spessard L. Holland (D-Fla.), chairman of a subcommittee which handled the measure, said 40 million dollars cut from one section of the bill will have to be voted later. The cut involved a disagreement over whether forest and public land highways should be paid for out of general revenues or out of the special highway trust fund.

Autos Damaged In District Mishaps

Three property damage traffic accidents on county highways were investigated by Lisbon State Highway Patrolmen Monday.

Two cars were slightly damaged when they collided on Rt. 154, two tenths of a mile north of Negley at 6:45 a.m. The drivers were Samuel Anderson, 20, RD 1, Negley and Gary Harding, 26, of 552 W. Martin St., East Palestine. Patrolmen said the road was drifted by snow on a curve where the cars hit.

Two motorists were cited at 1:20 p.m. after an accident on Rt. 14, five miles east of Columbiana. Patrolmen said the accident occurred when Samuel Morris, 19, of 42 Garfield Ave., East Palestine, attempted to make a left turn. He was struck in the rear by a car driven by Raymond Lindsay, 25, RD 1, New Galilee, Pa. The patrol cited Morris for making an improper turn and cited Lindsay for failing to stop in the assured clear distance.

A farm tractor driven by Robert Hippley 15 of RD 3 Salem was sideswiped by a car driven by Rex Carpenter 56 RD 2 Townsville Pa. at 3:10 p.m. on Rt. 62 just north of Salem. Patrolmen said the Hippley boy was making a left turn when the accident happened. Both vehicles were headed south.

Finch Trial 'Fix' Plot Reported

Attorneys Begin Final Arguments

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jurors in the Finch murder trial, amid reports of a plot to tamper with them, today begin hearing final arguments in the complex case.

The task at hand for the opposing attorneys is trying to sum up 160,000 words of often sensational testimony, making the most of their last chance to stress important points.

Seven women and five men will weigh the lawyers' words, trying to decide whether Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his shapely paramour, Carole Tregoff, planned and carried out the murder of the doctor's wife, or whether Barbara Jean Finch's gunshot death last summer was a tragic accident, as the defense claims.

Dr. Finch, 42, and Miss Tregoff, 23, his former secretary, are charged with murder and conspiracy. Superior Court Judge Wal-

Coors' Family Ready to Pay Ransom Money

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP)—The wife of missing millionaire Adolph Coors III broke a week of silence about his disappearance Monday night.

"We are ready to pay for my husband's safe return," she said in a statement.

Coors, missing for two weeks today when his station wagon was found on a dirt road he had taken from home to his office, was kidnapped in the opinion of his father and Sheriff Arthur Wermuth.

For the past week there was no comment from the family or law enforcement officers. Mrs. Coors' statement was issued through the Coors Brewery public relations counsel.

"My family and I are anxiously awaiting word from my husband 'Ad,'" it said. "I have asked all law enforcement authorities to withdraw from active participation in this case, which they have done. By this action we are giving assurance that no effort will be made to interfere with attempts to communicate with us."

"We are ready to pay for my husband's safe return."

Coors, 44, a shy, hard-working man heading the big Coors complex here, left for work Feb. 9 about 8 a. m. Three hours later his car was found, engine running, near a small wooden bridge smudged with human blood stains. His glasses and sports cap were found nearby.

The missing man has two younger brothers active in the management of the Coors Brewery and the Coors ceramics plant.

Over 100,000 In Brasilia To Greet Ike

Leaders of Two Nations Will Hold Private Talk Tonight

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP)—President Eisenhower flew south today to begin his 10-day South American tour with an overnight stop in Brazil's still unfinished city of the future.

Eisenhower's big jet took off from Ramey Air Force Base in Puerto Rico, where the President spent the night, at 7:48 a.m. (6:48 a.m. EST). He was due in Brasilia almost six hours later.

The modernistic capital-to-be was colorfully decked out for Eisenhower's arrival from Puerto Rico on the first leg of the four-nation mission he hopes will help cement Western Hemisphere unity.

Highlight of the stop will be a "Declaration of Brasilia" by Eisenhower and President Juscelino Kubitschek pledging to foster friendship and collaboration between the two nations.

Officials estimated more than 100,000 persons—virtually the entire population of the new city—would turn out to greet Eisenhower. Most of them are workmen brought here for construction of the city. They were given the day off to greet the President.

Along the plaza from which this giant Latin American nation will be governed starting April 21, bulldozers, graders, derricks, trucks, and Jeeps were lined up for Eisenhower to review.

This is the wet season in Brasilia, 600 miles northwest of Rio de Janeiro, and decoration of the city was held up until just a few hours before Eisenhower's arrival because of the threat of more rain.

Eisenhower's schedule in Brasilia included a civic reception in the center of the city, the unveiling of a monument commemorating his visit, dedication of the foundation stone for the new U.S. Embassy, and a dinner he will give tonight for Kubitschek.

The two presidents will have a chance to talk privately tonight at dinner in the new marble and glass presidential palace. Kubitschek is expected to urge American financial backing for his pet "Operation Pan-America," a sweeping program of economic development for Latin America.

Eisenhower left Washington early Monday and flew to Puerto Rico. He talked for 30 minutes at the San Juan airport with Gov. Luis Munoz Marin, then flew on to Ramey Air Force Base, 90 miles from San Juan, where he spent the night.

Fresh Snowstorms Rake Plains States

By The Associated Press
Fresh snowstorms raked wide sections of the plains states today, with blizzard conditions in some areas.

Gusty northerly winds, heavy snow and near zero temperatures were reported along the southern Nebraska border southward through most of west and central Kansas and the Oklahoma-Texas Panhandle. The storm center moved northeastward out of the south central plains.

Winds up to 30 to 40 m.p.h. whipped the heavy snow covering, making driving conditions hazardous. Falls measured three to six inches during the night in many parts of the storm belt.

Warnings of heavy snow were posted for most of east and central Kansas, southeast Nebraska, Iowa and northwest Missouri, with accumulations of four to eight inches by tonight.

The cold weather also invaded areas along the eastern slopes of the Rockies from east central Wyoming southward into northeast New Mexico, which also was hit by snow.

Lisbon Council OK's Police Cruiser, Studies Other Actions

LISBON — A garbage and refuse collection plan was under discussion last night by Village Council, although no action was taken.

William Warmuth of the B. and W. Sanitation Co., RD 5, Salem, explained to councilmen the types of equipment his firm would use.

It was noted that if the collection system were installed, users would be obliged to pay for the program because the village hasn't sufficient funds. Currently, a private collector using an open truck makes the collections in the village and is paid by his customers once a week.

Council's Police Committee recommended that the village buy a new police cruiser rather than rent one as suggested earlier.

Clerk Ray Hempstead was directed to draw up specifications for a new cruiser. The present cruiser has 86,000 miles on it.

Council discussed traffic light problems and recommendations made by representative from the state highway department. The lights were installed last week and recommendation were that they should be put back on 60 cycles. At the present time they are on 50 cycles. Council will put them back on 60 cycles and then request the state to make a survey and see how they should be set to give preference to through traffic on Rt. 30 and 45 through town.

Fund Transfer Approved
Clerk Hempstead requested permission to transfer $300 from the General Fund to the Civil Defense Fund for electricity which village pays at two Civil Defense locations. Council authorized the transfer.

Volunteer firemen requested two one and one-half inch spray nozzles and requested sirens and red lights for their private cars. Mayor Stockman advised that the fire chief or his assistant come to council meeting with specifications and recommendations. Council will act at that time.

Council discussed blocking off certain streets in the village for sled riding, but took no action.

Green St. has been blocked off for sledging and some others were recommended.

Mayor Stockman requested that the clerk write a note of thanks to the D. W. Dickey Feed Co. which loaned two trucks and a high-lift to help clear streets during the past week.

The next meeting will be March 14 at 7:30 p. m.

THE FIRST Presbyterian Church of Leetonia will be host at a Community World Day of Prayer served Friday at 2:30 p. m. Other churches taking part in the observance will be the Leetonia Menonite Church, St. Paul's Lutheran Church and the First Methodist Church.

All women of the community are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Carrig and family of Maysville, N.C., are spending ten days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Barnes. Upon their return they will be stationed with the U.S. Navy in Virginia.

James Kleinknecht attended the St. Elizabeth School of Nursing. Ruth King and Barbara Kalafus were among the students capped.

SIX TABLES OF 500 were in play at the benefit sponsored by

D. Wallace Rebekah Lodge Saturday evening. John Hutter of Columbiana and Mrs. Maude Berger of Leetonia received high scores.

Special prizes went to Mrs. Carl Virain, Herbert Secrist and Mrs. Vernie Ready.

Mrs. Elta Morris of Columbia St. was admitted to Salem City Hospital Friday.

SAYS SALARIES TOO LOW

CLEVELAND (AP) — Salaries paid government employees are too low, Rep. Charles A. Vanik (D Ohio) told a "salary rally" of postal workers Monday night. Vanik said he was in full agreement with the AFL-CIO contention that pay for government employees is "shamefully inadequate." He pledged full support for AFL-CIO proposals calling for legislation raising postal worker salaries at least 12 per cent.

Fighting the Smutmongers

A congressional subcommittee starts an investigation today of what appears to be a rising tide of pornographic literature, if "literature" is the proper term.

The stated aim of the study is to seek ways to curb the smut traffic, and this always arouses fears that the zeal to beat down an evil influence in society may hurt innocent people.

THE CHAIRMAN of the probe group, Rep. Kathryn E. Granahan of Pennsylvania, has suggested that the publishers adopt a "purity code" similar to Hollywood's to police themselves.

The New York Herald Tribune has questioned the realism of this approach, however, on the grounds that publishers of pornography hardly can be expected to display the moral or ethical conscience necessary to make self-policing work. Even Hollywood has run into difficulty with its code in recent years, with the result that it is far less effective than it once was.

On the other hand, any legislative handling of the problem should be approached with an alert eye on the long-range effect of an expedient action. The courts have shown over the years that overzealous efforts to stamp out smut can sometimes lead to abusive and improper censorship.

One reason for the current concern over the problem is the increasing evidence that pornography is closely allied to rackets and commercialized vice. If that is the case, it would seem logical that the continuing battle against all crime will have, as a result, a detrimental effect on the success of the pornographic business.

AND IN LINE with this, it has been suggested by a number of persons, including FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, that stricter enforcement of the laws now on the books would help. Even the enactment of stiffer penalties would do no good unless there were better efforts to enforce the laws which provide the penalties.

Through it all, however, it must be borne in mind that the fight against pornography, as against any other crime, must be waged within the bounds of the American concept of justice.

The rights of the innocent must not be sacrificed for the sake of removing the right of the guilty to engage in an immoral business.

Going By the Manual

Another Air Force manual has made the best-seller list in Washington, this one with questionable assertions about Communist infiltration or organized religion and the American people's right to know what their government is doing.

With two preceding manuals already top-sheaved because of material on the duties of enlisted men assigned to household duties and the "big brother" theme of tattling on the other fellow, the Air Force is in for a hard time. Congress needs something to investigate this year that will not rub voter for the wrong way and military manuals might be the answer. The Army and Navy issue training manuals, too—and it's a good bet they're being combed as never before.

It is barely possible that what is popping up here is some slight evidence of the military mind. That is a phrase that has fallen into disuse since Dwight Eisenhower demonstrated to general satisfaction in 1952 that he was not handicapped in his thinking by a "military mind."

Traditionally, militarists have been sometimes unable and more often unwilling to think about things outside their specialty. They thought and lived "by the book." They were parochial in their views and fiercely intolerant of contrary opinions. The danger, of course, was that in the evolution of a composite "military mind" a country could become the prisoner of its military hierarchy—a danger that George Washington warned against when he was imparting his hard-earned wisdom to the nation he helped to found.

Here is one place where a thoughtful investigation by Congress might save a stitch in time. Never before has the United States been so heavily committed to the all-out support of militarism as it is now; some of the militarists may be losing their sense of proportion.

Ah, To Be a Commoner...

It's good to know that Britain's royal household has been blessed with the birth of a second son, a stand-in for Prince Charles.

These blessed events always bring joy, even when they occur in circumstances that cause dark thoughts about population explosions.

When they occur in royal families, with close coverage by the press and knuckle-gnawing by the guardians of the monarchy, they have a special significance. Not so much for royalty, though, as for the unroyal. They make millions of us more than ordinarily thankful that we are commoners. They must make the parents of the new babies yearn to be commoners, too, for this particular occasion.

This above all is a time when privacy must seem to be the most precious state of mankind — the bright distinction that offsets monarchic privilege.

A commoner can go through the ordeal of childbirth in the relative seclusion of an ordinary hospital. An expectant father can gaze out the window without looking into the eye of a camera or the open mouth of an inquiring newsmen.

A mother-about-to-be can await nature's timing of the greatest miracle without misgivings about throwing the commonwealth off schedule.

When it's over and the newcomer's fingers and toes have been counted, an exultant father can pass out cigars to his friends and a new mother can set up a friendship with the little stranger on her own terms.

It's all pretty wonderful. Maybe it's just as wonderful with the world watching, too, but we doubt it. This is one time when we commoners are well satisfied with our relatively grubby lot in life.

State Must Enforce Liquor Law

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's proposal to toss responsibility of enforcing state liquor laws into the laps of local police departments and county sheriffs' offices might look good on the surface.

But it is unlikely such action would improve enforcement of these laws.

As a prime example, State Liquor Enforcement Chief Ivan W. Smith led a raid here in his home community last spring against an after-hours cheat spot. It had been in operation for some time before the raid.

Despite the fact that Canton's police department is almost twice the size of the entire enforcement division of the State Liquor Department, this violator had to be knocked off by state personnel. The same situation exists throughout the state.

The enforcement division of the State Liquor

Department now has fewer than 80 men. That's less than one man for each of Ohio's 88 counties. Gov. DiSalle suggests chopping the force to 40 or 50 men and giving them specialized FBI-type training.

The governor should consider, instead, continuing the enforcement division at its present size, at least, and giving all its members the training he is talking about.

His proposal to increase enforcement division agents' salaries and to set up higher standards for the type of men who are to be hired as agents is sound. It is folly, however, to believe that a state force of 40 men can even begin to cope with liquor violations going on in 88 counties.

It is folly, too, to believe that all of the local officials are going to accept the responsibility of enforcing state liquor laws.

Civilization 1980?

Washington Monument

By DAVID BARNETT

Some time this month the 34 millionth visitor will go to the top of the Washington Monument, a world-famous shaft that has been something of a problem before and since it was dedicated 75 years ago on Feb. 21.

The problem of financing and constructing the 555-foot marble obelisk lasted from the Continental Congress until 89 years after the death of George Washington.

The more modern problems are more moderate.

The monument is sinking, curving and eroding but not enough to be dangerous.

Every so often somebody drops something from the observation holes. Last April an orange that slipped down from the top knocked over a 9-year-old boy and squinted juice over his family.

A marble, picking up speed to 127 miles an hour during its descent, inflicted a bruise the size of a man's hand on an unsuspecting visitor.

IMPROVEMENTS made last year include presentation at a high volume level of a recorded commentary for visitors at the top, who constituted a captive audience.

As Secretary of Interior Fred Seaton said, when first hearing the spiel: "What a place for a political announcement."

The sinking of the shaft results from a settling into its clay and gravel base and is measured each year by Henry Weeden, a National Capital Parks engineer. The drop averages one-sixteenth of an inch annually.

The movement is straight down, though the monument has had a slight tilt — three-eighths of an inch — for 75 years. On a hot day, however, the shaft may curl as much as three inches. This results from the uneven heat expansion of the sides. On some days, the north side of the shaft will be 30 to 40 degrees cooler than the sun-baked south side.

Although some of the 1,185,977 persons who visited the shrine last year swore the shaft is leaning like the Tower of Pisa, even the combination of tilt and curl cannot be noticed without special instruments.

THE IDEA for a Washington Monument dates from the Continental Congress meeting in Philadelphia in 1783, which authorized an equestrian statue. The site for the Washington memorial was set by Pierre L'Enfant in 1791, in his layout of the Capital, on the mall between the White House and the Capitol building.

George Washington himself approved the idea but nothing much happened.

In 1833, a group of citizens led by the chief justice, John Marshall, and the librarian of Congress, George Watterston, organized the Washington National Monument Society.

The society held a competition for a suitable design and started a fund drive. The competition was won by a well-known architect, Robert Mills and what the visitor sees now has some similarity to the original Mills design. His plans called for a taller, more squat-looking, decorated shaft with a circular colonnade, a temple, at the base.

The shaft as constructed has no decorations, although there is something like a line around it at the 153-foot mark. Below that level the marble, from a different vein, is wearing at a faster rate. This gives the shaft a somewhat pieced-together look.

The circular temple was junked for economy reasons and the proportions of the shaft itself were changed to conform to the classic conception of the Egyptian obelisk. Orkneying out the measurements was one of the main jobs of the U.S. minister to Rome at that time, George P. Marsh.

Forthright Words

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Hard Statements Directed At Khrushchev

President Eisenhower in his address to the nation before departing for Latin America struck a blow for freedom in the world as against slavery, for truth in world debate as against misrepresentation and falsehood and for impartiality of judgment as against disparagement of America's military power to deter attack.

The president left no doubt that he had atheistic Russia in mind as he said: "The bonds among our American republics are not merely geographic—rather they are shared principles and convictions."

He added: "Together we believe in God, in the dignity and rights of man, in peace with justice and in the right of every people to determine its own destiny."

This, however, was but one of several shafts directed at the Communists, who in recent months have been infiltrating Latin America and encouraging propaganda and other activities hostile to the United States—as, for instance, in Cuba.

MR. EISENHOWER has not voiced any criticism more severe since Khrushchev came to America than is contained in the following paragraphs of the Sunday night address from the White House:

"We condemn all efforts to undermine the democratic institutions of the Americas through coercion or subversion and we abhor the use of the lie and distortion in relations among nations."

"Very recently, in a faraway country that has never known freedom—one which today holds millions of humans in subjugation—impassioned language has been used to assert that the United States has held Latin America in colonial relationship to ourselves."

"This is a blatant falsehood. In all history no nation has had a more honorable record in its dealings with other countries than has the United States."

The man who used that "impassioned language" about the United States was Nikita Khrushchev at a reception in Moscow recently for President Gronchi of Italy.

The "faraway country that has never known freedom" is today called the Soviet Union, which has retained the totalitarian methods of czarist Russia.

Mr. Eisenhower's remarks are not accompanied by any hint of future policy. But it is conceivable that, if the subversive activities against the independence of Latin American countries like Cuba continue, the United States may issue a reaffirmation of the Monroe Doctrine and call on the organization of American states to assert itself with regard to Soviet attempts to obtain control of Latin American countries.

The President reiterated that the United States adheres in Latin America "honorably and persistently ly to the policy of non-intervention."

The outspoken statements by Mr. Eisenhower raise anew some doubt as to whether, if the Soviet policies of stirring up anti-Americanism in Latin America should continue, he can possibly visit the Soviet Union next summer as planned.

OF EQUAL significance from a worldwide as well as a domestic point of view are the forthright words of the President about our defense posture. He said:

"We have created a great deterrent strength—so powerful as to command and to justify the respect of knowledgeable and unbiased observers here at home and abroad."

"Our many hundreds of Air Force bombers deployed the world over—each capable of unleashing a frightful destruction—constitute a force far superior to any other, in numbers, in quality and in strategic location of bases."

"We have, in addition, a powerful nuclear force in our aircraft carriers and in our host of widely deployed tactical aircraft."

"Adding constantly to these forces are advanced types of missiles steadily augmenting the armaments of all ground and other military units."

"As for longer range ballistic missiles, from a standing start only five years ago we have literally leaped forward in accomplishments no less than remarkable."

"Our Atlas missile, already amazingly accurate, became operational last year. Missiles of intermediate range are in forward bases."

"The first Polaris missile submarine—will soon be at sea. New generations of long-range missiles are under urgent development."

"Collectively, this is a force not unduly dependent upon any one weapon or any one service, not subject to elimination by sudden attack, buttressed by an industrial system unmatched on earth and unhesitatingly supported by a vigorous people determined to remain free."

"Strategically, that force is far better situated than any force that could be brought to bear against us."

"We have forged a trustworthy shield of peace—an indestructible force of incalculable power, ample for today and constantly developing to meet the needs of tomorrow. Today, in the presence of continuous threat, all of us can stand resolute and unafraid—confident in America's might as an anchor of free world security."

THE TRAGEDY is that utterances here based on selfish politics, selfish ambition and a reckless disregard of the impressions made on the world by narrow criticisms of the defense policy of the United States have given the Soviets a chance to smear America not only in Europe but in Latin America.

That is why the President had to employ the strong language he did when he said America's great deterrent strength is so powerful as "to command and to justify the respect of knowledgeable and unbiased observers here at home and abroad."

Pep Up Life With Phobias

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Have you noticed lately that you bore people?

Do they walk away when you join the convivial group around the office water cooler? Do they yawn at cocktail parties when you try to enter into the conversation? At home, does your own wife switch on the television set rather than have to listen to you?

Maybe it's because life has gone so well with you lately you've become too contented. There is nothing duller than a satisfied man.

Perfection of any kind inevitably becomes boring. Take a circle, for example. A circle is a perfect geometrical figure, but what does it add up to? It is a zero.

You don't have to be the human zero in your social circle, however. All you have to do is to pep up your life with new fears. It is your fears that make you interesting to others because fears make you more human.

"But I don't know what to be afraid of," you may say.

Nonsense. Utter nonsense. There are plenty of things to be afraid of if you just put your mind to the problem.

The "Psychiatric Dictionary," published by Oxford University Press, has compiled a handy list of 210 phobias. They range from aerophobia, fear of air, to graphophobia, fear of writing.

Maybe you've had some of these fears all along and never knew it. Well, now is the time to find out. Here are a few samples:

Do you blush at the thought you're so dull and boring? Fine. We're off to a good start. You suffer from eruthophobia, the fear of blushing.

Do you hesitate at a street intersection? You've got that popular pedestrian malady dromophobia, fear of crossing streets.

Do you brood about getting into a rut on your job? Great, man, great. You're coming down with taphephobia, fear of being buried alive.

Do you hate to get up in the morning? That's a sigh of eosophobia, fear of the dawn, and phengophobia, fear of daylight.

Do you dislike being by yourself? Wonderful! You've hit the jackpot here. You are suffering from autophobia, eremophobia and monophobia, all of which mean the fear of being alone.

Do you hate to take pills? Oh, oh, buddy. You've got pharmacophobia, fear of medicine.

Do you get angry if your brother-in-law comes for a long visit? That's a sure indication of parasitophobia, fear of parasites.

Do you feel your wife is sometimes too possessive? You're getting pnigerophobia, fear of smothering.

What do you mean you don't know what to be afraid of? The list is endless. Why not surprise your friends and pep up your conversation by being overcome with some really novel dreads? Such as pteronophobia, fear of feathers, homicholophobia, fear of fog, or autophobia, fear of flutes?

No one with fears like those can be boring.

If you try hard enough, you might even become the champion coward in your neighborhood by acquiring pantophobia.

Pantophobia is the fear of everything.

Barbs

Don't try stretching your word—it makes it too easy to break it. Some necks are traceable to the mouth, says a doctor. Maybe we should keep our mouths shut so as not to get it in the neck.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Peace has triumphed in the Jack Paar-NBC outer space war as in the first and second World Wars, not to mention the Napoleonic ruckuses. The global crisis, Sahara bomb, Dr. Finch and Wall Street can get back into the public eye.

Jack will take a vacation to rest up from the terrible ordeals of $5,000 a week, fame and great success through soft work; and return to the Never-Never Land better fit to stand an occasional criticism.

It was all the greatest piece of publicity (intended or not) in the history of show biz, not excluding Anna Held's milk baths.

In retrospect it turns out funnier than anything ever seen on regular TV programs. Never through the centuries has an m.c. or comedian got so much suspense for so many out of so little. The whole episode calls for these credit lines:

Original idea by P. T. Barnum.

Music by Temperamental Symphonic Orchestra.

Directed by the United States and Canadian Hockey Clubs.

The Doctor Says

Honor Hands' Inherent Beauty

I have a stack of requests for information about care of the hands. Rough hands. Gnarled hands. Split nails. Ridged nails. And the like.

If you'll be patient with me while I answer the long way around, I'll give you a minority opinion about hand care.

Ever since I was a lad, I've been fascinated by hands. It began, I think, when my artist-father taught me to look first at hands when I studied a portrait painting.

IF YOU LOOK at a study by Rembrandt or Hals, you'll see what he meant. The subject of the painting has HANDS, very revealing hands. They're not just a pair of lunch hooks attached to the wrists.

And if you ever get to the Rodin Museum in Philadelphia, you'll see what a great sculptor could do with hands. You'll be fascinated by such studies as "The Hand of God" and the "Cathedral." These are hands that are meaningful. They're hands that symbolize the accomplishments and aspirations of our civilization.

NOW, IF YOU'LL compare these hands with the hands that are idealized in cosmetic ads, you'll see something else again. Smooth hands, tapering fingers and enameled nails ending in sharpened talons like those of a ferocious animal.

These are hands that symbolize the uselessness and vanities from which the modern woman has gained emancipation. Or so I thought in my male innocence.

If you're looking for advice on how to have your hands look like those of the expressionless doll-women in the ads, read no further. You're not for me. And I'm not for you.

IF YOU WANT your hands to be useful members of your society and to reflect some of the dignity of womanhood, here are some recommendations:

1. Protect your hands while you do your kitchen or laundry work with a thin film of a preparation of silicone oil. You can use the same products I recommended for the scalp that shed dandruff scales and that some of you said you had difficulty getting. (Silicote and Silicare.)

2. Avoid chemical cuticle removers, they damage the nail-bed and cause most of the ridging and splitting you complain of.

3. Buff your nails, if you must. But avoid dyes and enamels. Some of these cause eruptions, usually of the upper eyelid, in patients with allergic sensitivity.

4. Cut your nails short and with a gentle arch at most. The claw is a menace to your stockings, to your loved ones, particularly babies, and to you when the protruding nail pulls the fixed portion from the underlying nailbed.

5. If your hands are gnarled and have small cysts that occasionally break, don't go chasing an "arthritis cure." Nothing will dissolve them. They're part of your family inheritance and you might as well wear them with pride.

6. And if your friends who reject my recommendations stamp me as a man without an eye for beauty, you might like to quote Auguste Renoir, the French impressionist:

"It is lovely to paint a woman's hands. But they must be hands used to housework."

SECURANCE

Se-cur'ance (sē-kūr'āns), n. A new program for true family security, originated by Nationwide Insurance. A method of providing through one representative all (or part) of one's insurance—life, health, home, car, property; may include car and home financing. Also refers to the unique system of democratic participation through which member-customers help determine direction and scope of company services.

TODAY, SECURANCE becomes a vital word in our language. It rhymes with insurance...it adds to insurance. SECURANCE is insurance-plus. SECURANCE is Nationwide's original new formula to help you plan the financial future of your family.

In 1926 when Nationwide was founded, a new insurance approach was born. Working together with its policyholders, Nationwide decided to provide, through one agent, all kinds of insurance—at low cost. Then, other services, allied to insurance were added. Today, most Nationwide representatives can provide:

- 1 Insurance for your car, home, health, life, family, business... even group insurance coverages—129 plans in all.
- 2 Financing assistance for car purchases and home mortgages.

SECURANCE is your first real opportunity to save while you simplify your security problems. Now one agent can provide you with insurance of all kinds plus financing facilities. In addition, you have the opportunity for democratic participation in the affairs of Nationwide. In fact, our policyholders helped develop this new SECURANCE concept through their representatives (on Nationwide Mutual's Board of Directors) and through their own participation in Nationwide's unique Advisory Committees of Policyholders.

SECURANCE comes in many sizes—a full program to cover every need, or just a single coverage. No matter how much SECURANCE you need, your Nationwide representative has the plan for you.

You'll like the convenience of having one agent take care of all or any of your needs. You'll like the low rates on just about any insurance you need. And you have the added satisfaction of knowing that you can have a voice in determining future services. For like no other big business in America, Nationwide is committed to the ideal of economic democracy.

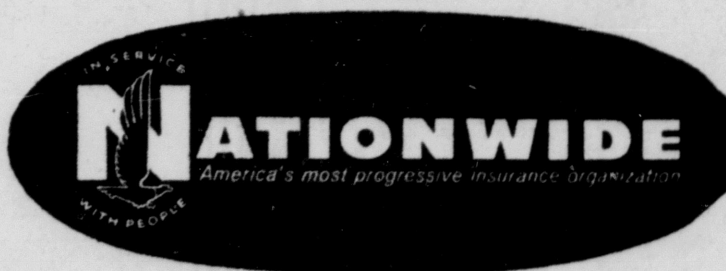

Call your Nationwide agent today and ask him about SECURANCE—or mail coupon to nearest office listed below for your free Securance Catalog.

(In addition to the services described above, most Nationwide agents are authorized to sell shares of Mutual Income Foundation, a mutual fund. An M.I.F. prospectus can be obtained from your Nationwide agent—or from Heritage Securities, Inc., 246 No. High Street, Columbus 16, Ohio.)

Marietta Yocus is Bride Here of Airman Jon F. Hearn

The marriage of Miss Marietta Yocus and A1C Jon Franklin Hearn was solemnized Saturday afternoon in the sanctuary of the First Friends Church.

Palms, ferns, schefflera, twin vases of white gladioli and chrysanthemums and lighted tapers in twin seven-branch candelabra enhanced the altar setting for the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Harold B. Winn.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Yocus of RD 5, Salem. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott Hearn of Waycross, Ga. are the bridegroom's parents.

Miss Shirley Hawkins of Wellington, cousin of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly," "O Promise Me" "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer." She was accompanied by organist, Mrs. Harold B. Winn.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a creation of nylon lace and taffeta, designed and made by her mother. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a scalloped V-neckline and long pointed sleeves. The bouffant skirt was floor length.

Her elbow-length illusion veil was edged in lace. She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and pompons, centered with two white cymbidium orchids.

Identically gowned were the matron of honor, Mrs. Robert Heschelmann of Canfield and Mrs. Donovan Winn of Salem. Their floor-length frocks of cotton blue chiffon velvet were fashioned with boat necklines, fitted bodices and pleated cummerbunds.

Blue floral hats with matching veils were worn by the attendants. White gloves and single strands of pearls completed their ensembles. They carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations.

The flower girls were Connie and Caren Coleman of Columbiana, cousins of the bride. Their floor-length dresses were of baby blue net over taffeta, styled with peter pan collars and puffed sleeves. They carried lace umbrellas filled with pink and white miniature carnations.

Mr. Hearn served his son as best man. Wayne Yocus, of New York City, brother of the bride and Robert Scott Hearn of Waycross, Ga., brother of the bridegroom, were the ushers.

Mrs. Yocus chose a medium blue shantung dress with navy and mauve accessories, while Mrs. Hearn wore a copenhagen blue chiffon dress with matching accessories. White rose corsages complemented their attire.

Reception Held In Church

The couple were greeted by 125 guests at the reception which followed in the church social room. The bride's table was laid with a white linen cloth and centered with a four-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom figurine, with ivy and pink carnations encircling the base of the cake. Two three-branch candelabra completed the setting which featured pink and white appointments.

The hostesses were Mrs. Lloyd Parker, Mrs. Orlan Wank, Miss Jean Pim and Miss Dorothy Parker. Miss Joy Hearn, sister of the bridegroom, registered the guests from Wellington, Westerville, Leetonia, Columbiana, East Palestine, New Waterford, Canfield, Youngstown, Akron, Lisbon, Waycross, and Atlanta, Ga., and New York City.

A graduate of Leetonia High School, Mrs. Hearn attended Cleveland Bible College and was employed by the Civil Service Commission at Stewart Air Force Base in Newburgh, N. Y. Mr. Hearn graduated from Waycross, Ga. High School and is serving with the Air Force at Stewart AFB in Newburgh, N. Y.

For her wedding trip to the South, the bride chose an emerald green wool sheath with patent accessories. Upon their return, they will reside in Newburgh, N. Y.

The bridegroom's parents were hosts at the rehearsal party Friday evening at the bride's home. The

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I just returned from a funeral. It was the saddest thing I've ever witnessed — and so unnecessary. My head is splitting but instead of sitting around weeping I decided to write you this letter in the hope that such tragedies might be averted in the future.

A 3-year-old neighbor boy climbed on the bathroom sink, opened the medicine cabinet and helped himself to an assortment of high-powered pills. No doubt he thought it was candy.

His mother found him lying on the bathroom floor but it was too late. He was dead when the ambulance arrived.

This was the only son in a family of four girls. The mother is filled with guilt. She keeps saying over and over, "It's my fault! It's my fault!"

I urge every mother who reads this to make a complete check of her household at once. Look in the medicine cabinets, the broom closets, the cupboard. Any liquid or pill-type medicine, cleaning fluid, fly spray or rat poison should be locked up, out of the reach of curious hands.

A few moments of checking may spare you the most heartbreaking tragedy of a lifetime.

Thanks, Ann, for letting me get this off my chest. — SAD FRIEND.

Dear Friend: My thanks to you for your letter. I'd like to join in a plea that mothers all over the nation act on your excellent suggestion at once.

Payola Echoes

Dear Ann: Will you settle a family fight? Our 10-year-old son is selling his homework. My husband says Nicky is an enterprising kid and will amount to something. I say his materialistic approach to life is shocking and if he's encouraged along these lines he'll be a grasping, greedy adult.

Nicky has always been precocious and gets top marks without too much effort. Last evening when his best buddy left I heard him say: "I'll pay you tomorrow — a dime for the arithmetic answers and a nickel for English."

I asked Nicky what it was all about and he told me. I was shocked and said we'd discuss it when his father came home. We did. His father praised the boy and I lost out completely.

If I'm wrong I want to know. If my husband is wrong I think he'll listen to you. Please step forth. — V.J.

Dear V.J.: What with rigged TV, payola and corruption on every side, it's small wonder a 10-year-old would take to selling homework. Some of our young people are growing up with the philosophy that "The Dollar" is king and how you get it doesn't much matter.

Parents must counteract this 20th century moral decay by setting high standards at home and encouraging personal integrity.

Nicky should be told that selling answers is dishonest and will not be tolerated. He should be encouraged to help his friends and to be of service.

De-Lighted Torch

Dear Ann: I'm 16 and unhappy. A certain fellow takes me out about three times a month. I am crazy about him and he says he likes me very much but never mentions love. The problem is, he has never taken me to a movie, a dance or any place really nice. We only go for rides and wind up necking.

Last week I made up my mind if he didn't take me to a movie I would break up with him. I told him how I felt and he called me a "gold digger" and left. I miss him very much and wonder now if I did the right thing. — TORCH CARRIER.

Dear Carrier: Use that torch to light the way to a decent relationship. This boy was using you for his own amusement. Don't make the same mistake again. If you want to be treated like a lady you'll have to behave like one.

Teen-Age Gigolo

Dear Ann: I'm a boy 17 who is in a quandary. I work part time after school and on Saturday. My mother is a widow who works to support two younger sisters. We aren't destitute, please understand, but there's not a lot of money to throw around.

The trouble is with a certain girl who seems to like me very much. Her dad is a professional man and they live in a beautiful home. She phones me every night and gave me a wrist watch for Christmas which I begged her to take back but she refused.

Well, this girl asked me to a big social dance. I told her I couldn't go because I didn't have a tux. She said I should rent one. I told her I didn't want to spend the money. With that she slipped $14 into my hand.

I tried to give it back but she wouldn't hear of it. I feel like a heel. She wants me to go as a favor to her but I don't think it's right. Please answer immediately as I don't know what to do.—SUBSIDIZED.

Dear Sub: You know what to do — and the sooner the better. Give the money back to Miss Ft. Knox and tell her to invite someone who has the gear. If you play this kind of game, Buster, you'll have to take the name — and it's not pretty.

Skeleton In Closet

Dear Ann: My daughter is 9 and she doesn't know my present husband is not her real father. I was divorced when she was 2 and this man is the only father she knows. My mother says if I tell her the truth now she'll lose faith in me because she'll think I tried to deceive her. Yet I have the uneasy feeling that someone will tell her when she gets older and it will be a terrific emotional blow.

Her real father lives about 1,000 miles from here and has remarried. Chances are good we'll never hear from him again. Please advise me. I'm losing sleep over this.—GRETA.

Dear Greta: You're several years late but it would be far better to tell her now than to live in fear that someone else will. Skeletons have a way of falling out of closets when least expected and they can make one heck of a clatter.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Herron Jolts Farmers Bank 62-52 For City Cage Title

Truckers End Perfect Season Industrial Mining Sets Scoring Record

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

There will be no playoff in the city Class A basketball league this year.

Herron Transfer made sure of that Monday night at the Memorial Building when it put the lid on the second half title by setting down rival Farmers Bank 62-52. The game brought the Class A season to a close.

Since the Truckers also capped the first round championship, the usual best-of-three playoff between winners of the two rounds is not necessary.

HERRON'S WENT through the season with 18 straight victories without a defeat. Farmers Bank was runnerup in both rounds. The Bankers could have thrown the second half race into a tie with a win last night.

In the other league game played at the Memorial Building last night, Industrial Mining set a new season scoring high for the loop by trouncing Meissner's Sohio 102-70.

Birkhimer's Islys forfeited its scheduled game with S & B Greenhouses.

Herron's big 6-8 center, Dean Nicholson, tossed in a record-breaking 38 points to leave no doubt about which is the best team in the league.

NICHOLSON registered all of the points his team collected in the opening quarter when armers jumped off to a 14-13 lead. By halftime the Herron's ace had tallied 25 points to put the Truckers on top 34-25.

Nicholson added eight more markers in the third quarter and five in the final frame as the champions pulled away.

Red Stanley was top scorer for the Bankers with 14 points.

The 38 points scored last night by Nicholson eclipsed the previous season high of 34 scored by Lee Barnes of Mesmer Coal against Salem Stamping.

FARMERS BANK wound up with a 7-2 record for the second round. The loss to Herron's left it in a tie with S & B Greenhouses for the runnerup spot.

Phil Wenner and Bob Adams tallied 65 points between them to lead Industrial Mining to its record-shattering 102-70 win over Meissner's. Wenner poured in 35 markers while Adams collected 30.

Gene Kitzmiller and Merle Darrah also hit in double figures for the winners, scoring 19 and 14 points respectively. Industrial Mining meshed 26 points in each of the first, second and fourth quarters and added 24 markers in the third frame to set the record.

John Sturgeon's 25 points were high for Meissner's.

The win enabled Industrial Mining to finish in fourth place with a 5-4 record. Meissner's slipped into the second division with four wins and five losses.

Cincinnati Still Leads In Cage Poll

By The Associated Press

Cincinnati still leads the college basketball parade with the end in sight but it has a new challenger in Ohio State which has moved into second place in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportscasters.

Although Oscar Robertson was held to 14 points Saturday, Cincinnati beat Houston 57-47 to boost its record to 20-1. There is a comfortable 203-point gap between Cincinnati and runnerup Ohio State.

Ohio State's victories over Illinois and Michigan State earned enough support to give the Buckeyes the No. 2 spot in a scramble with Bradley and California.

St. Bonaventure advanced into the top 10 for the first time by knocking off Villanova and Marquette.

The first 10 teams with points on a 10-9-8-7-6 basis (first place votes in parentheses):

Miss Heiss Near Olympics Goal

Monday Black Day for Americans

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — Barring an amazing upset, the Stars and Stripes of the United States should flutter high on the Olympic pole today for the first time in the eighth Winter Olympics.

Already far ahead after completion of the compulsory figures, lovely Carol Heiss of Ozone Park, N.Y., was rated a 1 to 100 shot to realize a 15-year ambition and win the Olympic figure skating gold medal—the only prize that has eluded her so far.

The pert, 20-year-old skating queen stepped on the ice for the free skating finale today with an almost unbeatable lead over her arch-rival, 18-year-old Sjoukje Dijkstra of Holland. Carol, the four-time world champion, had 9 ordinals — a perfect rating from the nine judges — and 837.8 points compared to the European champion's 20 ordinals and 792 points.

The Americans—shut out of the first 11 of the 27 championships—had another hope in the women's giant slalom. Penny Pitou, of Gilford, N.H., who was second in the downhill, and Betsy Snite, of Norwich, Vt., matched their skill and daring against Europe's best in the giant slalom on Papoose Peak.

There was virtually no hope at all for Uncle Sam in the remainder of the program. He didn't have a ghost of a chance in the 3,000-meter women's speed skating, an event right up the Soviet Union's alley, or in the men's 15-kilometer (9.6 miles) cross-country ski race.

Sixten Jernberg, Sweden's "king of the skis" and winner of the 30-kilometer gold medal, aimed to become the first double gold medal winner of the games by taking this race.

Monday was another black day for the Yanks. In the fourth day of competition, the gold medals went to France, the U.S.S.R. and Germany, and the Soviet Union rolled up its advantage in the unofficial team point scoring.

The Soviets had 86 1/2 points, Germany 48, Sweden 29, the U.S.A. 16, Switzerland 15, Canada and Austria 13 each, Finland and Poland 11 each, Italy 8, Norway 6, Japan 3.

The best the Americans could do in individual competition was eighth place in the women's 1,000-meter speed skating. Jeanne Ashworth of Wilmington, Mass., set a national record of 1:36.5 in the event, won by the Soviet's Klara Guseva in 1:34.1.

Jean Vuarnet, a handsome, 27-year-old Frenchman who was told to "go for broke" in his last big-time flight, captured the downhill in 2:06.0 for the dangerous, two-mile journey down ice-topped Squaw Peak.

George Thoma, a stocky, 22-year-old mail carrier from Germany's Black Forest, upset the Scandinavian and Soviet favorites in winning the Nordic combined jumping and cross-country skiing with 457.9 points.

Hockey provided a bright note for the hosts. The American hockey team, paced by Minnesota's Roger Christian's three-goal performance, defeated Sweden 6-3, in the opening round of the final Olympic hockey championship tournament.

The poll will be issued Wednesday, it said.

Indiana Jars Illinois 92-78

Iowa Beats Purdue; Northwestern Wins

By The Associated Press

A mere eight points has kept Indiana in second place instead of first in the Big Ten basketball race.

Eight points was the total difference between Indiana and its opponents in the first three conference games of the season, which the Hoosiers lost.

Since that time, Indiana has won eight straight but its chances of tying Ohio State for the title are slimmer than a violin string.

Although Indiana won at Illinois 92-78 Monday night, the Hoosiers must win their three remaining games and Ohio State must lose its last three to create a deadlock.

And if eight points aren't much, think of Indiana's chance because of one point. The Hoosiers lost to Ohio State in Columbus 96-95 before starting their eight-game conference streak.

Had Indiana defeated the Buckeyes, Hoosier title chances would be much better than merely possible. Indiana would have a 9-2 record instead of 8-3 and Ohio State would be 10-1 instead of 11-0. Indiana then could create a tie by defeating OSU at Bloomington Feb. 29.

Indiana's 6-10 1/2 junior Walt Belamy put on a one-man show at Champaign with a 42-point barrage and sent Illinois spinning to its third straight loss. Illinois (5-6) never got within nine points in the second half.

In other games, Iowa (5-7) defeated Purdue (6-6) at Lafayette 78-68, Northwestern (6-5) clipped Michigan State (5-7) 71-69 at Evanston and Wisconsin (3-8) made it three straight with an 88-62 overtime victory over winless Michigan (0-11) at Ann Arbor. Ohio State and third-place Minnesota (8-4) were idle.

Iowa's triumph came despite 27 points by Terry Dischinger and 25 by Jerry Berkshire. Northwestern's came despite 22 each by MSU's Horace Walker and Lance Olson.

Wisconsin overcame a six-point halftime deficit to tie Michigan and then scored 13 points in overtime for its victory. Badger Marty Gharriy scored 19 points in the second half and finished with 26. Teammate Tom Hughbanks had 23. Lowell Farris was high for Michigan with 28 and John Tidwell had 27.

LUCAS LEADS IN SCORING

CHICAGO (AP) — Jerry Lucas, Ohio State's sophomore candidate for All-American honors, maintains his Big Ten all-games basketball scoring lead.

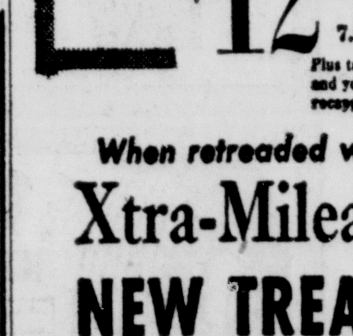

Lucas has a 27.2 average with 544 points in 20 games. Terry Dischinger, Purdue sophomore, is second with 548 points in 21 games and a 26.0 average.

Greenford Disposes Of Jackson-Milton

Top seeded Lowellville knocked off Western Reserve 73-30 and Greenford disposed of Jackson-Milton 58-43 in opening round action of the Mahoning County Class A tournament played Monday night at Struthers Field House.

The heavily favored Rockets had all five of its starters hit in double figures. Ken Camp, Lowellville's 6-2 1/2-all-state candidate, paced the field with 14 points. Tom McCarthy added 11 markers and Jim Dovich, Phil Genova and Chuck Schiavello each chipped in with 10.

Don Schaeffer, Western Reserve's 6-2 center, was a one man show for the Blue Devils, collecting 20 of his team's 30 points.

LOWELLVILLE, winners in 17 of 18 games during the regular season and ranked among the top 10 Class A teams in the state, moved on top 12-6 in the opening period. The Rockets piled up a 34-13 margin by intermission.

Coach Dick Williams substituted freely in the second half but his Rockets kept pouring it on. Western Reserve had a 3-14 record during the regular season.

Greenford's top scorer for the season, Clyde Shoff, came through with 19 points to lead the Bobcats to their surprisingly easy win over Jackson-Milton.

SHOFF GOT scoring support from Merlyn Bush and Bill Beery, who collected 10 and 11 points, respectively.

Jim Reeves, the area's leading scorer with a 26.4 point per game average, did his best to keep the Blue Jays in the game. The 6-4 senior hooped 25 of his team's 43 points.

The defeats eliminated Western Reserve and Jackson-Milton from the tournament. The two winners will return to action again on Wednesday night at Struthers Field House.

Lowellville will tangle with Springfield Local (7-10) at 7 p.m. and Greenford will meet North Lima (6-11) at 8:30. The championship game is set for Saturday, with both champ and runner-up advancing to Sectional play at Warren next week.

Steubenville Nips Youngstown; KSU Beaten by Toledo

By The Associated Press

Big Paul Hogue, 6-9 sophomore center, led Cincinnati's Bearcats in scoring for the second straight game when he corralled 26 points in Monday night's easy 85-54 triumph over North Texas State. And that's news.

In other Ohio college cage action Monday night: Toledo wound up its home season with a 60-53 victory over Kent State; Steubenville pushed through a "miracle" field goal as the buzzer sounded to give the Barons a 42-40 triumph over Youngstown; Wilberforce withstood a late surge by Cedarville to take a 72-69 win, and three Bluffton players hit for a total of 71 points as the Beavers downed Goshen (Ind.) 93-79.

Toledo, assured of a second place finish in the Mid-American Conference with a 9-3 record, had to overcome a 9-0 deficit before overtaking and beating Kent State.

Bluffton's Carl Leichty, Abe Mast and Larry Hedden pumped in 25, 24 and 22 points, respectively, in the Beavers' easy victory.

Nips Leetonia's Radler In Tri-County

Hardgrove Wins League Scoring Title

Ron Hardgrove of Minerva overtook Leetonia's Lee Radler in the final game of the season to win the Tri-County scoring title by a single point.

The little 5-10 Minerva hot shot whipped in a total of 343 points compared to 342 for Radler.

The Leetonia flash went into the final two games on the schedule last week with what looked to be a comfortable 33 point lead over Hardgrove. However, Radler was able to collect a total of just nine markers against Poland and Lisbon while Hardgrove was hooping 34 against Louisville and Columbiana.

HARDGROVE WENT into his last game on Friday, 24 points behind Radler. The Leetonia star was held to three markers by Lisbon while Hardgrove ripped Minerva for 28. Radler had held the league lead since the second contest of the season when he hit 40 points against Fairfield-Waterford of the Inter-County loop.

Both Hardgrove and Radler are seniors, having been standouts throughout their high school cage careers.

Hardgrove also led the champion Lions in scoring last year when he was a first-string all-league selection. The clever guard was instrumental in bringing Minerva its straight league title.

Radler, on the other hand, played for a team which won only one league game. The Bears had a season record of 4-14. They shared the Tri-County League basement with Lisbon.

ROUNDING OUT the top five scorers in the league were Rich Hunneke of Poland, John Chate-lain of Louisville and Rich Harrold of Columbiana.

Hunneke is a 6-3 senior forward. He was a second team all-league choice last year.

Chate-lain was one of three returning Louisville players who were regulars last year too. The other two, Larry Bucklerand Tom Kerstetter, also wound up among the league's top 20 scorers this season.

Harrold, a 6-0 junior, is the only non-senior among the top five scorers. He was the tallest man on a small Columbiana squad which managed to win six of 14 league games.

CHAMPION MINERVA placed the most men among the top 20 scorers. The Lions, beaten only by Carrollton in 18 games this season, had four men on the select list.

Poland, Louisville, Sebring and Columbiana each placed three men on the top 20 list; Leetonia had two; and East Palestine and Lisbon each placed one. Lisbon played a 17-game schedule. The remaining seven teams all played 18 contests.

Minerva scored the most points and gave up the fewest. Poland, which for the second straight year finished as runner-up to Minerva, posted the second best offensive and defensive records.

ALL LEAGUE teams except Leetonia will open tournament play this week. The Bears, the only Class A team in the loop, will participate in the Canton sectional. The drawing for that tournament won't be until next Sunday.

Minerva and Sebring will take part in the Alliance sectional, Poland, East Palestine, Columbiana and Lisbon will open at Struthers, and Louisville is entered in the Canton Class AA sectional.

In opening round games on Thursday, East Palestine will meet

United, Columbiana faces Struthers and Lisbon tangles with Youngstown Wilson.

On Friday Minerva will meet Goshen, Poland takes on Beaver Local, Louisville will battle Northwest and Sebring faces Alliance.

Here are the final standings and individual scoring leaders for the league:

Summer Amasses 11-Point Edge Over Hunter In Scoring

The top scorer in Columbiana County for the 1959-60 basketball season will be decided tonight.

Jim Summer of United holds an 11-point edge over Salem's Dave Hunter going into tonight's action when both the Eagles and the Quakers will be playing their final regular season contest. Salem will be home to Girard and United will travel to Beaver Local.

The 6-1, 210-pound United cager overhauled Hunter last week by racking up 23 points against Goshen and 33 in a tilt with Dover. St. Joseph, Hunter played in only one game last week and hit 24 markers against Akron East.

SUMMER HAS registered 381 points this season compared to 370 for Hunter. Both cagers have played in 17 games.

In an earlier encounter with Beaver Local, Summer was limited to 14 points by the Beavers. Only Irondele has held him under that mark and it performed the trick twice.

Lee Radler of Leetonia closed the season with 342 points. He is currently in third place. Ken Cunningham is in fourth place with 238 markers, but the Potters still have two games to play this week-end.

The East Liverpool star missed a chance to really challenge the leaders when he broke a blood vessel in his ankle and was forced to sit out a game with Martins Ferry on Friday. He came back against Dover the following night but only collected 10 points.

Salem Team First In Bowling Tourney

A Salem team holds down first place with 3,050 pins in the state Elk's bowling tournament being held at Dayton.

More than 500 teams are entered in the tournament. Another Salem squad, representing the Salem Hotel, is currently in sixth place. The tournament has been underway for three weeks. It is slated to run for another four weekends.

The Salem teams rolled last weekend. Members of the leading Elk's outfit are Tony Brelih, Norm Hough, Bob Shoe, Glenn Whinnery and Bob Wilson. Wilson's 557 and Brelih's 551 were high for the Salem Elk's.

For the Lape Hotel, Don Klingensmith recorded a 567 and John Pridon a 556.

Both teams bowl in the Classic League at Saxon Lane and the Quaker City League at Timberlakes here.

Hayes Jones Enters K of C Track Meet

CLEVELAND (AP) — Hayes Jones, sensational hurdles champion from Eastern Michigan College, today was entered in the 20th annual Knights of Columbus track meet at the Cleveland Arena March 18.

Jones has won six straight races this season in eastern competition, including a pair of "double" victories in the hurdles and sprints on successive nights in Philadelphia and New York.

Jones, one of the United States' top hopes in the Olympic Games, is entered in the 50-yard high hurdles here. He has finished second at the K of C meet in each of the last three years.

NEARS GOLD MEDAL—Carol Heiss executes the "paraph." considered the most difficult of the compulsory figures, as she piles up 836.8 points in the Winter Olympics figure skating competition yesterday at Squaw Valley, Calif. She is scheduled to skate free style on today and is almost certain to win the first gold medal for America in the current games.

Goal Record Tied by Big O

Cincy Wins; Bradley Stopped by Houston

By The Associated Press
Oscar Robertson has another line in major college basketball's record book today and his top-ranked Cincinnati Bearcats are virtually assured of their third crack at the NCAA championship.

The fabulous Big O, winding up what for him was a mediocre two game tour of Texas, managed six field goals Monday night in Cincinnati's 85-54 rout of North Texas State to tie Elgin Baylor's all-time career record of 956 field goals.

But while Oscar was held to only 16 points, Houston shoved the Bearcats toward another Missouri Valley Conference championship and another NCAA tournament by snapping Bradley's 15-game winning streak, 63-58.

The flub by Bradley, the nation's No. 3 team in the new Associated Press poll, dropped the Braves a game behind Cincinnati with three games to go for each club in their mighty MVC duel. If Cincinnati can win its last three conference games—and it'll be naturally favored over Wichita, Tulsa and Drake—it has the title and an NCAA berth in the bag.

Georgia Tech and Notre Dame officially joined the NCAA tournament family, the Irish (15-7) as an at-large selection for the first round at Lexington, Ky. March 8, and Tech by clinching the Southeastern Conference spot with a 69-55 overtime victory over Florida.

Auburn stayed even with Tech at 11-2 in the SEC with one game remaining after a 72-63 decision over Tennessee but the Tigers are on NCAA probation and ineligible for the tournament. Runner-up Kentucky, 10-3 after whipping Alabama 75-55, still could tie Tech but Tech would still get the berth in that event since it beat Kentucky twice during the regular season.

In other top games, New Mexico State grabbed the Border Conference lead from West Texas by a half-game with a 92-59 thrashing of the erstwhile pace-setters; Indiana rolled to its ninth straight victory 92-78 over Illinois to keep its mathematical chance behind unbeaten Ohio State in the Big Ten race; and Missouri whipped Colorado 82-73 and knocked the Buffs out of a three-way tie for the Big Eight lead with idle Kansas and Kansas State.

Wake Forest (18-6) prepping for the big Atlantic Coast Conference tournament next week, thumped NIT-bound Villanova 89-70 behind 26 points from Billy Packer, 21 from Dave Budd and 20 from Lenie Chappell.

Other major results included: Miami, Fla.'s 104-95 victory over Kentucky Wesleyan for a 22-3 record; Oklahoma 50 Nebraska 49; Iowa 78 Purdue 68; Duke 79 Virginia 63; Northwestern 71 Michigan 69; Iowa 78 Purdue 68; Wisconsin 88 Michigan 82 in overtime; Arkansas 94 Rice 74; and Manhattan 109 CCNY 67.

Deming Beats Eljer 3-0 In Volleyball Games

Deming Co. improved its record to 11 wins against seven losses in the Adult Volleyball League by capturing three straight games from Eljer Office Monday night at the Memorial Building.

The Pumpers set down the Office crew by scores of 15-3, 15-8 and 15-12.

Eljer Office now has a 9-12 record for the second round. Deming's 11-7 mark keeps them in fourth place in the nine team loop.

ter R. Evans, in the first order of business today, was to rule on defense motions for dismissal or advised verdicts of acquittal on all counts.

The court also will inform the opposing attorneys exactly what instructions will be given the jury as to possible verdicts.

Dist. Atty. William B. McKesson conceded Monday that he had heard rumors someone was attempting to approach a juror. Judge Evans said this possibility had figured in his decision to order the panel locked up in a hotel over the long Washington's Birthday weekend.

But McKesson said he didn't have enough information to start an investigation. Evans added that there was nothing to implicate the defense in any way.

One report said the alleged tamper plot was linked to gambling elements and that large sums of money were available. Big sums are said to have been wagered on the trial's outcome, plus pools and handicaps clocking the time the jurors will deliberate.

Van Rie's Wife May Take Stand

BOSTON (AP) — Nella van Rie may be a defense witness at the trial of her radio operator husband, Willem, charged with the shipboard killing of pretty Lynn Kauffman, 23-year-old divorcee.

Defense Counsel W. Langdon Powers said there is a "slight possibility" he may call the defendant's dark-haired wife.

Van Rie's trial, in recess since Saturday noon, enters its 10th day today.

A 33-year-old Indonesian named Gadong, cabin boy aboard the Dutch freighter Utrecht, from which Miss Kauffman disappeared last Sept. 18, was expected to be one of the last prosecution witnesses.

Gadong, flown halfway around the world from Surabaya, may testify about what he did and observed while the Utrecht steamed out of Boston for New York five months ago, resuming a voyage from the Orient.

Lynn Kauffman's battered, half-nude body was found next day, washed ashore on a harbor island.

A medical examiner testified she was beaten and kicked before she died of drowning, and other injuries could have been caused if she had been thrust through a porthole of her cabin.

The prosecution contends Van Rie engaged in a romance with the slight Miss Kauffman during the 44-day voyage from Singapore, that a quarrel ended this affair and that the radio operator beat her in her cabin.
